Programme Report

Organizing Department : Computer Applications
Name of the Programme : File Handling in Python
Type of Programme : Hands on Training
Date of the Programme : 23th September 2024
Venue : Lab III
Participants : I BCA

About the Programme

The Department of Computer Applications organized a hands-on training program on "File Handling in Python" for first-year UG students (I BCA). Mr. Karthikeyan, a trainer from Vedam Institute of Technology, Madurai, was the resource person for this program. Prof. M. Muthulakshmi, Head of the Department of Computer Applications, served as the convenor. Prof. V. Bhavani and Prof. R. K. Vijayalakshmi were the program coordinators who successfully organized the event. Ms. Sanjay, I BCA student, introduced the resource person.

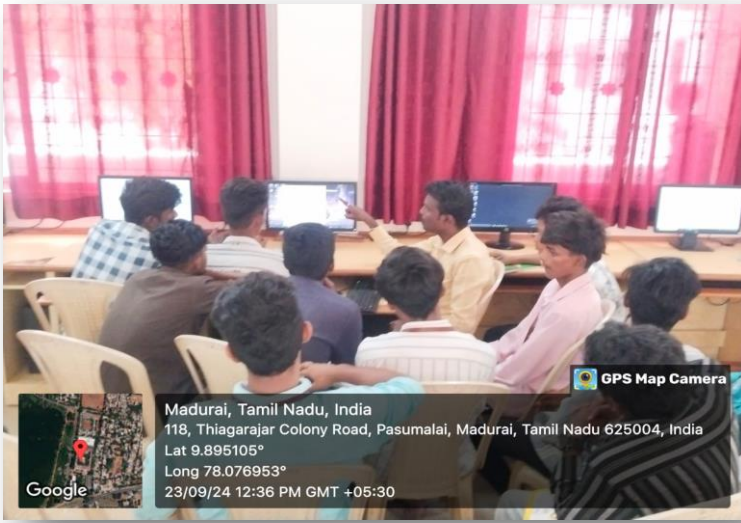

The resource person explained the basic concepts of file handling in Python, enabling participants to perform fundamental file operations and handle exceptions effectively. By the end of the program, students gained confidence in developing file-based Python applications. The session concluded with a vote of thanks. Overall, 42 students benefited from this program, learning about file operations, modes, and error handling to build real-world applications.
